Animal Care and Control Appreciation Week

PULLMAN – Endorsed by the National Animal Care & Control Association, the week of April 9-15, 2017 celebrates and promotes professionalism amongst animal care and control professionals nationwide.

The Pullman Police Department employs two full-time Code Enforcement Officers, Elizabeth Schaeffer and Emily Johns. The duo are tasked with parking and code enforcement duties, as well as animal control responsibilities for the City of Pullman. In 2016, Pullman PD responded to more than 750 calls for animal-related service in our city. Schaeffer and Johns protect the welfare of local animals suffering from disease, injury, abuse or starvation, while protecting and educating the public about wild and domestic animals and their care. The Pullman Police Department recognizes the important role of these staff members and their dedication to protecting the health and welfare of our animal friends.

The Pullman Police Department also recognizes the hard-working staff and volunteers of the Whitman County Humane Society, for their continued support and quality care of Pullman animals through essential rescue, shelter, and adoption services. Pullman is lucky to have all of these dedicated individuals, and we thank them for their contributions to our community.
